KIDS CAN COOK!

Junk food and videos – a big mess too,
Berry and Brie are feeling blue.

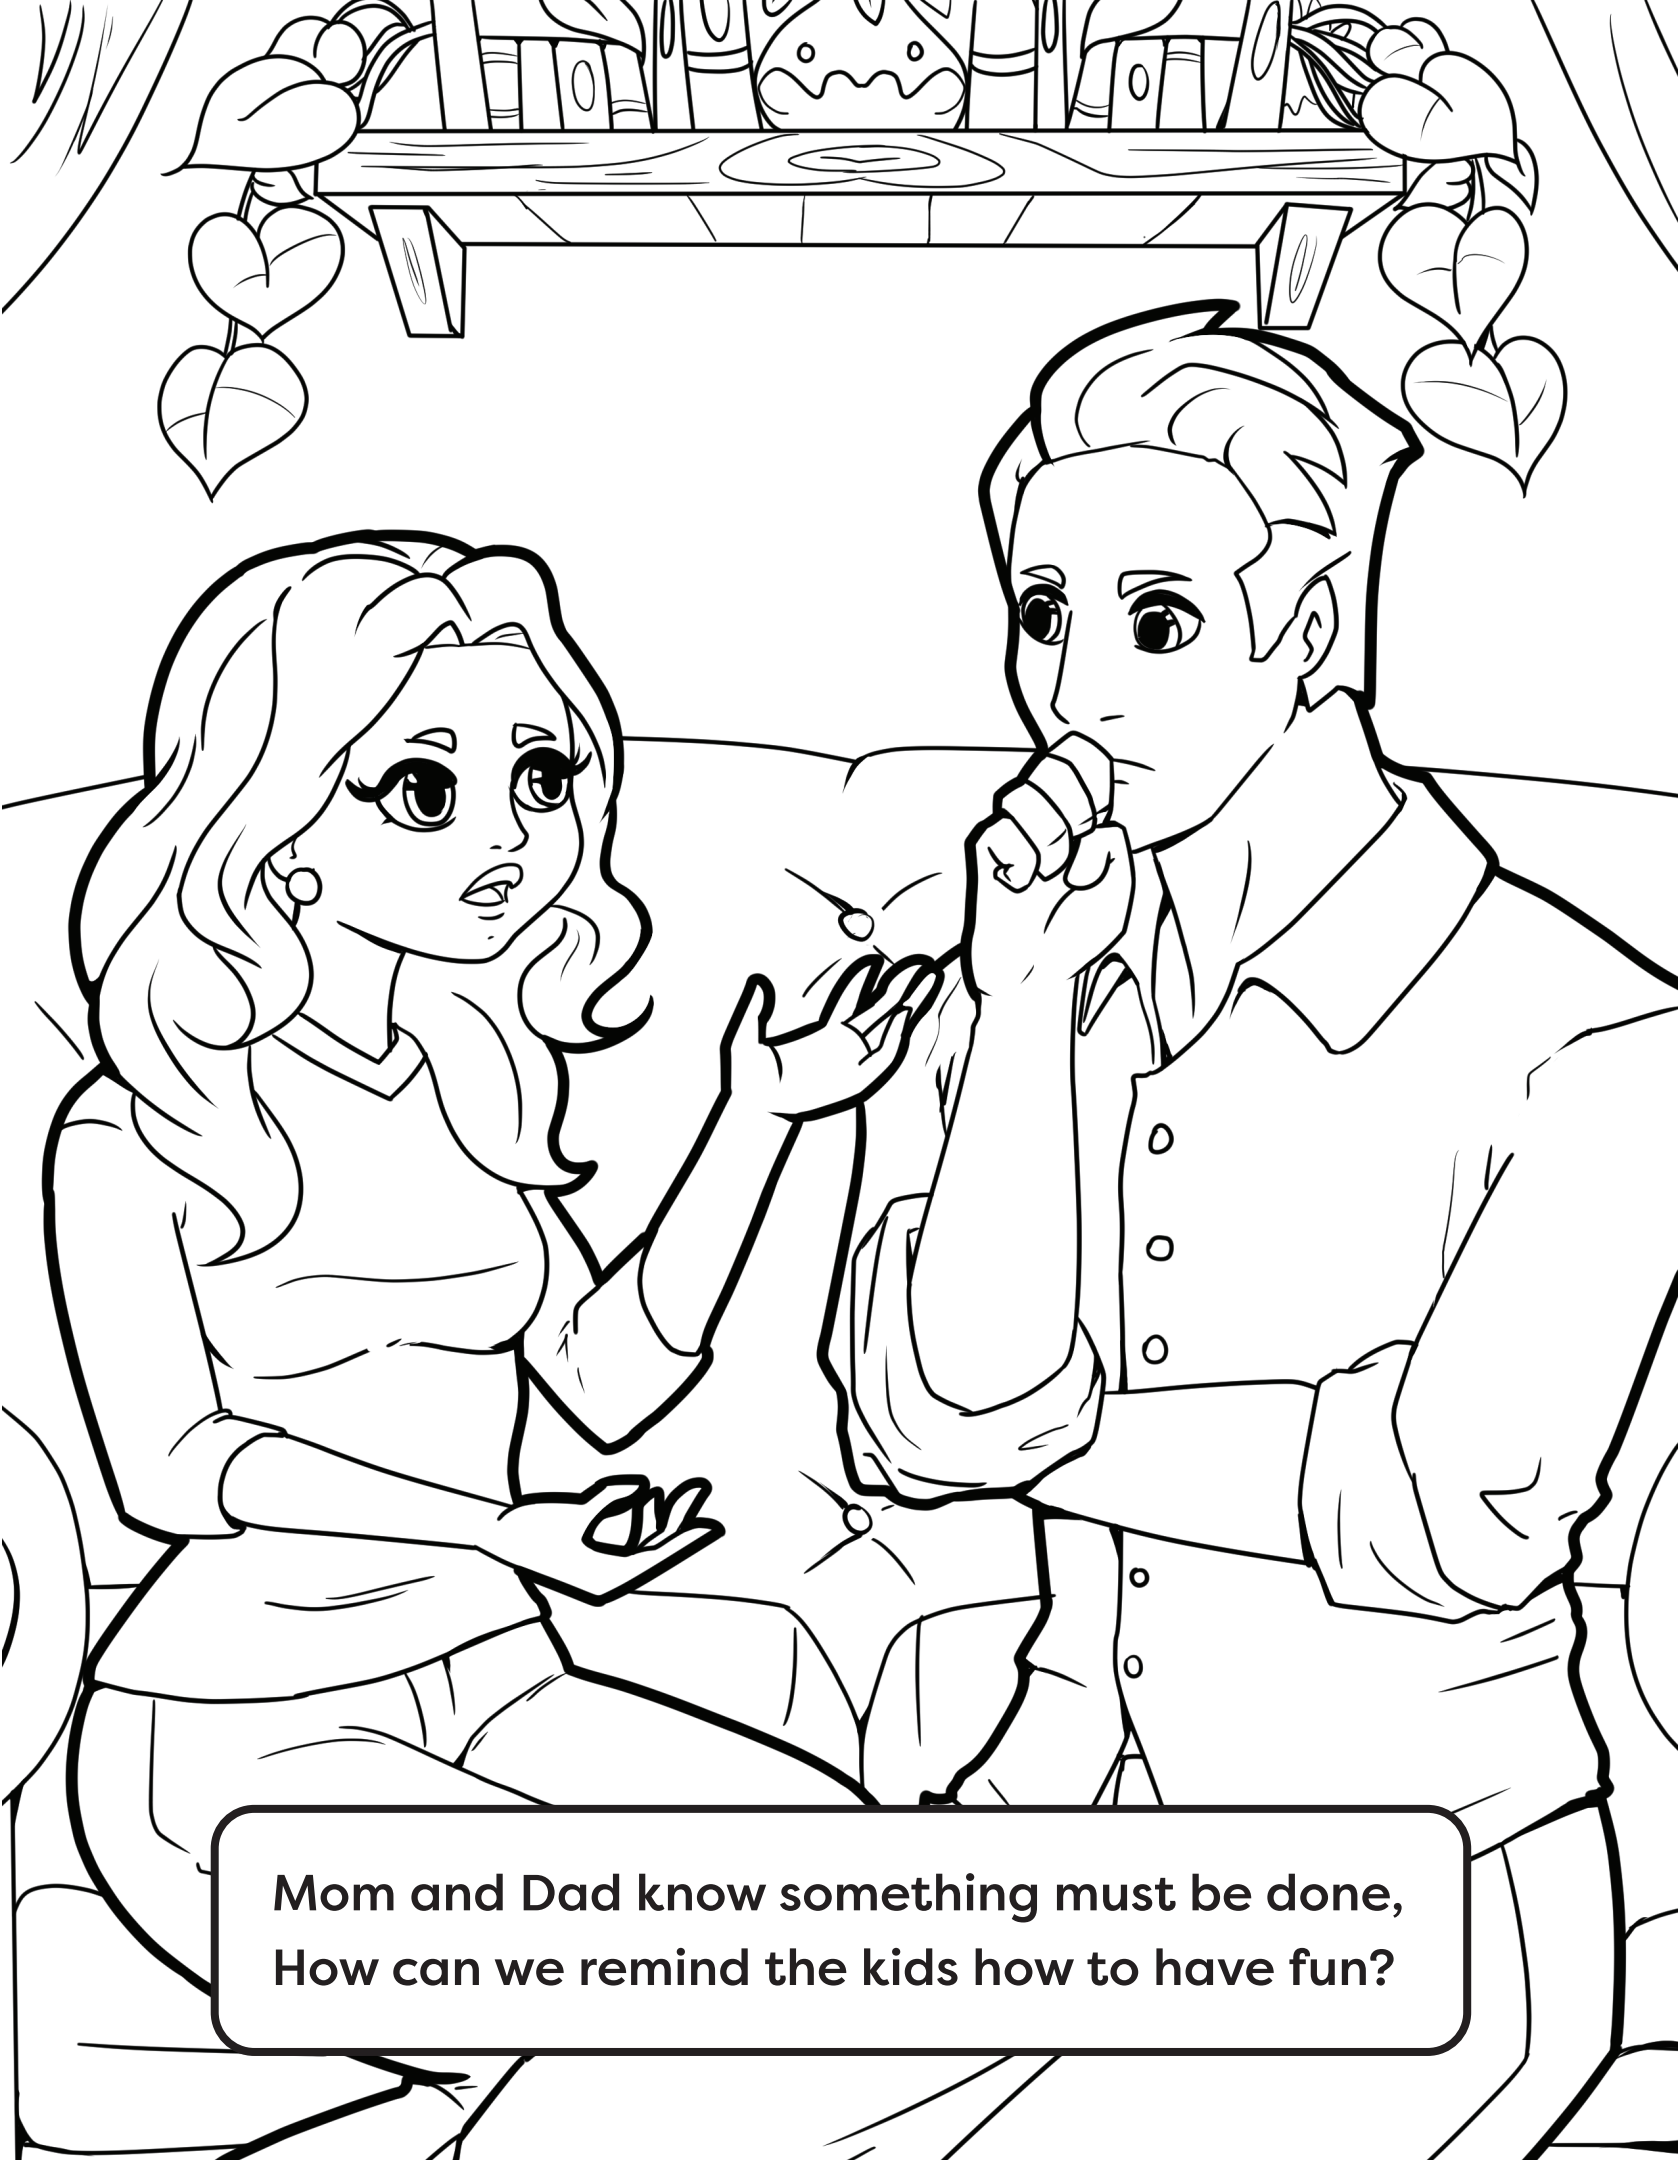

Mom tries to pry them from the screen,
But snacks and 'toons are their daily routine.

Dinner is a rushed affair —
Hot dogs, soda, and no time to share.

Out in the yard, it's another beautiful day!
But Berry and Brie have forgotten how to play.

Mom and Dad know something must be done,
How can we remind the kids how to have fun?

A friend suggests Kidstir cooking kits.
A hands-on adventure — maybe this is it!

Dad's excited to cook and bake –
He clicks subscribe and says "Just wait!"

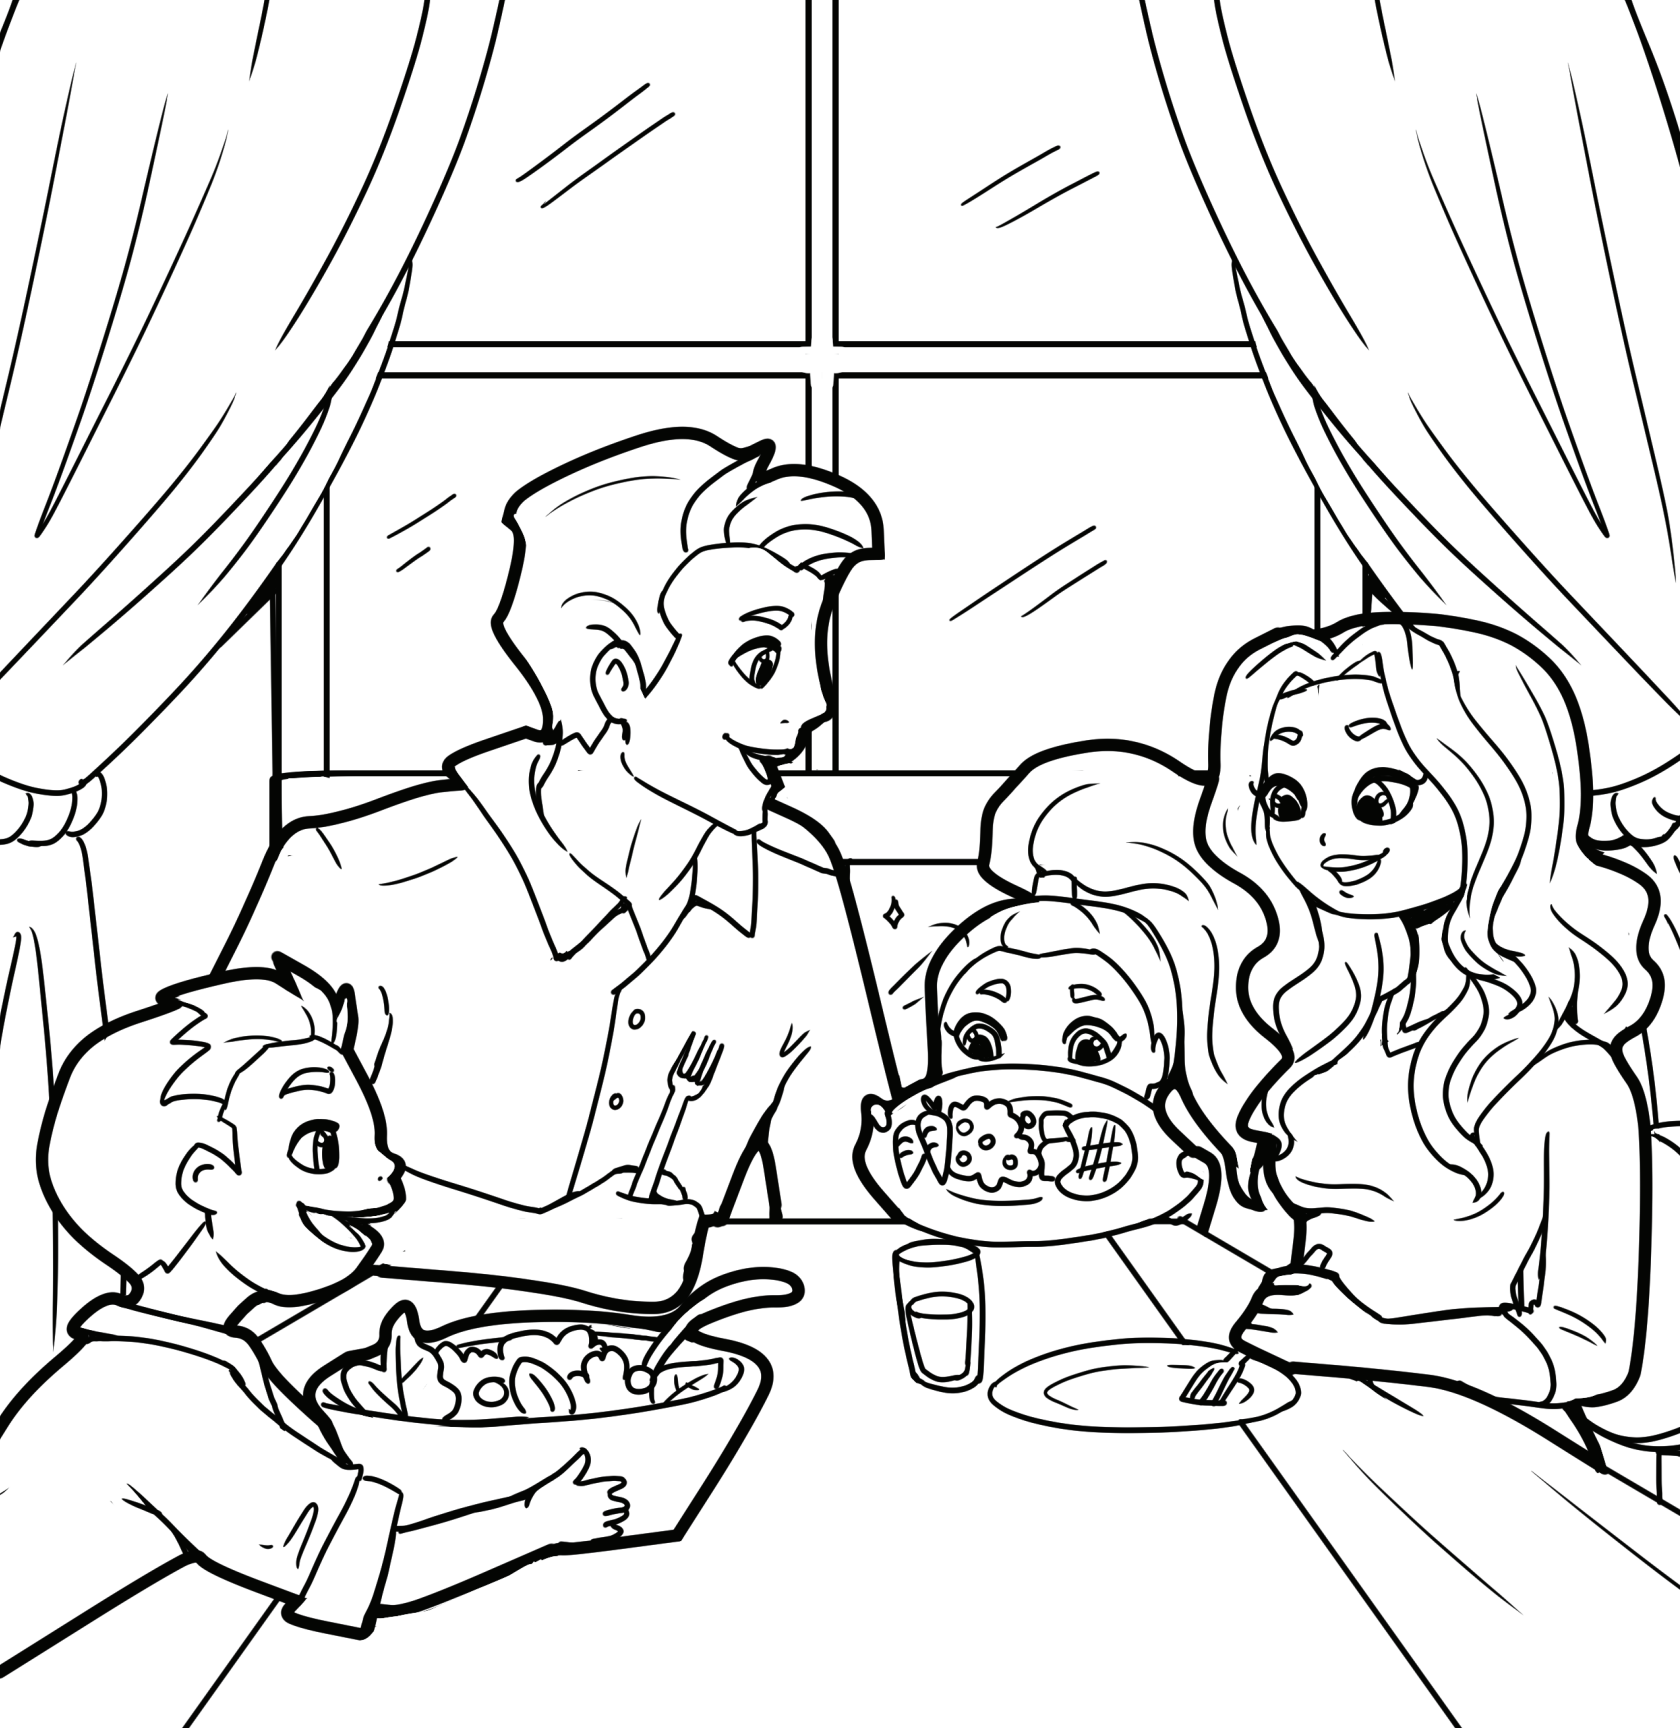

Before you know it, a package is here.
“It’s the Kidstir box!” the kids both cheer.

Getting a delivery is fun, it's true.
Hey look – it's addressed to me and you!

Now it's cooking time! Here's the plan:
Berry cracks the egg and Brie holds the pan.

“We did it!” they cheer, “Hip, hip, hurray!”
It’s a pretty good feeling to whisk and sauté!

As we share this good food we're making memories too –
That's the best part of cooking and laughing with you!
